Here's a recap of the key questions and comments that were discussed in December 2025's meeting:

- Contact 3D and 4D Commanders to present before the Committee. They can answer questions about MPD's dealing with the federal task forces and their efforts to restore trust among the community
- What's the goal of the Public Safety Committee for next year? Could it be about working on building trust between public safety agencies during this interim period? We could pressure agencies again to do a Public Safety Summit - which did not get off the ground this year despite our best efforts.
- Contact Deputy Mayor Appiah to learn who will be interim chief and to stress that that we should not have changes in 3D/4D leadership during this period given that we finally have some leadership stability in these roles
- Draft a resolution/letter on the lack of USAO Superior Court reports. The USAO sent a September report after we asked but cease any updates afterwards.
- Juvenile Justice issues. The "peaks and valleys" of juvenile justice trends in DC suggests that there's no long-term strategy. Just reactionary policies. Can we talk to DC agencies and other cities about a long-term strategy that works?

- Reforming the Citizens Advisory Councils. This was discussed in ATD's earlier resolution passed this year and still seems like a meaningful project. The CAC meetings seem to mostly just be about people lodging complaints to the Commanders...which is fine, but is there any other purpose they could serve?
- Stabilization Center. No new news. The plan is still for it to open in September 2026.
